Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough remedy. Ready and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "cough remedy," you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and beats the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. THE BAKING POWDER QUESTION SOLVED

Most housewives proclaim that the baking powder question was solved for them the moment they used the first spoonful of Calumet. After that no doubt remained—no hoping—no searching for a perfect leavener—no wondering if bakings would "turn out all right."

has solved the question because in all these thirty years it has never failed to produce whole, some and appetizing foods at an economical cost. It is as pure and sure as any baking powder ever made.

Calumet is more economical than other brands selling for less because its quality is the highest—no losses from spoiled bakings.

Use Calumet once—that's enough to prove to you that it's "best by test."

A pound can of Calumet contains a full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Boy Says He Heard Father Frame Up Auto Deal

The Ironton Register says: Jim Parnell of Ashland, formerly of Ironton, was on trial in Ashland Monday afternoon on a charge of defrauding an insurance company, by collecting insurance money on his own car, a Cole Year, which he is alleged to have either stolen or disposed of himself. He collected $400 insurance money from the Hager Insurance Company of Ashland. Attorney H. M. Edwards, of Ironton, assisted in the prosecution, while Clyde Levy represented Parnell. Detective Kendall accompanied Prosecutor Edwards and had in custody Robert Nichols, a son of the late Hugh Nichols who was murdered at Sedotville some weeks ago. The young man was placed on the witness stand and testified that he had overheard Parnell and his father (now dead) frame up the deal to steal the car and divide the $400 equally Mr. and Mrs. Alva Snyders were also examined by the Commonwealth. The case was marked with rather heated exchanges between the lawyers. Levy charging Edwards in a question of attempting to influence Parnell to make a clean breast of the entire automobile plot. Levy alleged Mr. Edwards took an unfair advantage of Parnell, but Mr. Edwards easily convinced the court that this was not true.

Young Nichols will be returned to jail here today. Parnell was held to the grand jury in the sum of $500 which he is arranging to give.

THEATRICAL

Bringing Up Father at Sun
The many admirers of the McMahon popular cartoons, "Bringing Up Father," will be delighted to learn that they will be seen in real life at the Sun Theatre tonight. This season's offering is entitled "Bringing Up Father in Wall Street," and comes fresh from a most successful engagement at the Manhattan Opera House, New York, and the Metropolitan Opera House, Philadelphia. The Houses of Grand Opera. Large and enthusiastic audiences greeted Jiggs and Maggie in New York and Philadelphia. "Bringing Up Father" certainly got many a laugh out of me. "It is delightfully amusing," said Enrico Caruso, the famous grand opera tenor. There are a number of catchy song hits in which a very attractive chorine is much in evidence with frequent changes of costumes. A well balanced cast is seen in the principal roles.

Billy Moore, Comedian, With "Listen To Me"
The popularity that Billy Moore has attained before the footlights during the last few years may be attributed to his careful study of character comedy. His first appearance upon the stage was in Jew comedy, a character that he portrayed several seasons. When the military musical spectacle "My Soldier Girl" was produced, Moore was cast as "Jasper Peabody," a black-face comedy role that he created, and was featured in four solid seasons, gaining a host of friends throughout the United States and Canada. In the present role with La Comte and Fiesher's new musical extravaganza, "Listen To Me," coming to the Sun tomorrow night, Billy was called upon to originate two roles, a black-face minstrel man and a chocolate drop in a candy shop. In the first act as "Snow Ball" he is a stranded

from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—an operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later it seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that kind of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sarsaparilla Wash to all."—Mrs. Mary Enrico, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago.

By being persuaded to take a substitute for Vinol. Your physician will tell you that there is no better strength creator or body builder known to medicine than the combination of tonics contained in Vinol, which are plainly printed on the label and contain among other things, the curative elements of old fashioned Cod Liver Oil (without oil)—Vegetable Iron—Beef Peptones—and Glycero-phosphates. Therefore why will weak, nervous people, feeble old people, mothers of delicate children, and convalescents be fooled by the extravagant claims made by some medicines, when this standard remedy is guaranteed to restore strength and build you up or it costs you nothing, and you know what you are taking. For many years Vinol has been sold in this city and you undoubtedly know many who have been benefited by its use. Surely you take no chances in trying Vinol because you know what you are taking and can get your money back if it fails to benefit you.—Advertisement.

Big Theatre Deal Closed

ASHLAND, Ky., Jan. 24.—A real estate deal and business change of considerable magnitude and unusual interest was closed last night when the holdings of the Arcadia Theatre Company were purchased by S. L. Martin and associates of this city. This includes the real estate which was owned by H. B. Brothers of Ironton and involves an expenditure of nearly $80,000.

The former owners will operate the theatre until Wednesday night, January 25, after which it will be officially turned over to Mr. Martin. It is understood the new owners will close the theatre for a few days in order to make some necessary improvements and arrange for some new bookings.

It is generally conceded that this is indeed a most valuable property and the new owners will control all the theatres in Ashland and the Real Theatre in Catlettsburg. It will give them an opportunity to utilize the Arcadia to the best advantage as it is one of the largest theatres in this section of the Ohio valley.

in a Scene from the Paramount Picture
"The Sheik," a George Melford Production.

"The Sheik" Without Doubt The Most Talked Of Picture Before The Public Today. Will Be The Big Attraction At The Columbia For Four Days Starting Tomorrow. In addition Theatre tomorrow, are the

One of the most impressive features of "The Sheik," George Melford's latest production for Paramount, which comes to the Columbia magnificent and spectacular settings in which the various scenes are enacted. These include:

A remarkable conception of a public section of the ancient City of Carthage under Roman rule; a birdseye shot of the City of Biskra, the Monte Carlo of the Algerian Sahara, taken from a minaret with an Arab playing in the foreground; fifteen actual shots about the city of Biskra, especially made for the picture by a representative from Paramount's London Studio; a picturesque African oasis, especially constructed on a desert site near Hollywood; a complete Arabian village—the stronghold of the bandit chieftain, Omar; and beautiful, exotic interiors, such as the interior of the Sheik's tent, and the desert palace of Omar.

In the Carthage episode, which is a vision in the picture, a very unusual effect is presented. Agnes Ayres, playing the principal feminine role, is shown as the haughty queen who rules the city under Roman domination. When the scene first opens, it shows the proud English girl, later to be captured by the Sheik, encamped at night among the ruins of Roman splendor in the ancient city. There are broken pillars and crumbling ruins. Then the girl becomes a Carthaginian queen, the architecture is restored and scenes of splendor, peopled with the royal court, flower girls, harp girls, slaves, centurions and Roman soldiers follow. This vision establishes the haughty, dominant character of the girl, who upon taking a journey into the desert, despite her brother's objections.

The role of the Sheik is played by Rudolph Valentino, the popular "Julio" of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." The cast further includes Lucien Littlefield, Adolphe Menjou, George Wagner, Ruth Miller, Walter Long and F. R. Butler.

Fly's wing is one of the most perfect and delicate pieces of mechanism nature has produced.

When Is Auto Trade A Trade?

Evidence in the case of H. G. Amick, charged in a complaint made by Martin L. Burless with stealing his Buick automobile, was heard by Judge McCall in Municipal court yesterday afternoon and then continued for further consideration.

The testimony disclosed that Burless traded his Buick car and $200 for Amick's Lozier machine on January 7, under a sort of an agreement that if at the end of three days' trial either was not satisfied, the deal would be called off and each get his car back. Burless claimed he was not satisfied and declared the deal was never consummated, while Amick asserted the deal was fair and square. He further claimed that the complaint made against him was an after thought and came after he had instituted a civil suit in common pleas court to recover the $200 due him in the trade.

During the war nearly 15,000,000 women were drawing pay for their services in Great Britain.

"Whenever you see a baby laugh just about nothing at all, you may be sure that there is a fairy around somewhere tickling him."

COME along," said Mr. Crane to Nancy and Nick, so the Twins started after him, followed by Burskin. "I want to show you the use we make of all the run-away-fairies that come up to our sky country."

Soon he stopped and opened another door, inviting the visitors to enter. It was full of fairies working like sixes, and covered almost to their eyes with big aprons.

"This," said Mr. Crane, importantly, "is the tickler department. We make ticklers here."

"What kind?" asked Nancy.

"For the babies," said the crane. "Whenever you see a baby laugh just about nothing at all, you may be sure that there is a fairy around somewhere tickling him with a tiny feather tickler. Wonderful things, really. Mothers don't know how much they ought to appreciate our efforts along this line. They'd never have time for dishes or the darning or the doorbells if our little fairies didn't amuse baby with their ticklers. But come along folks, I've more to show you."

So they followed him out again and along the passage to another door which Mr. Crane opened. "Come in," he said, graciously. "This is where we make brooms for the sweepers."

"What sweepers?" asked Nick. "Fairies," answered the crane. "We make cute little feather brooms for them to sweep the cobwebs off the grass on summer nights, so that when the dew-fairies come along with their sprinklers the dew won't stay atop of the webs, but can get down to the poor thirty grass and flowers beneath. Haven't you seen the fields and gardens on summer mornings covered with cobwebs, sparkling with dew? That's because the fairy sweepers ran out of brooms and couldn't brush the webs away. But come on. I'll take you to another place."

thing. Dolly will serge dresses and wool hose be all right for Easter? KENTUCKY KID.

I'm glad the mule didn't kick him twice, aren't you? Your teeth may not get you anything, but they add 100 per cent to your appearance. Easter is rather late this year, and if you are going to get a new dress for the occasion, why not get a taffeta instead of a serge? Wool looks all right if the weather is cold enough for them, but I think it will be warm enough for silk hose on the sixteenth of April.

DEAR DOLLY—I had a brother in the late war and he is working out in the country and I want to know if I can get his bonus blank and send it to him. It is hard for him to get to town. Let me know if I can do this.

HIS SISTER

Your brother should have applied for his bonus sooner, as the filing of applications at the American Legion rooms ends tomorrow evening. You could send him the blank to be filled out, but he will have to sign it up before a notary public, and he will probably have to come here anyway to do that, so he might as well make one trip and have it over with. If there is a notary near him he could have it signed up there. If he comes, tell him to bring all the information necessary with him, such as his discharge papers, enlistment, date, etc.

DEAR DOLLY—Our house is painted tan and brown and we are thinking of changing the color in the spring to gray and white, and I want you to tell me if we will have to get new window blinds. We have yellow blinds now, and they won't match a gray and white house very well. If we have to buy new ones they will cost almost as much as the paint. Our blinds are good. Can you suggest what we could do with them?

HILLTOP READER

You might get a can of flat white paint and paint the outside of your blinds white. I think you could do this satisfactorily if you would let them dry thoroughly before rolling up. You might experiment with one on a back window and find out if it could be done.

Still—That Schoolgirl Complexion

When must beauty cease? Never, if you know how to keep it. The charm of beautiful maturity may rival that of early youth if wholesome, ever alluring freshness is not allowed to fade.

A firm, fine skin, smooth and free from blemishes, makes every woman seem young. Every woman can have such a complexion—the secret is simple, the means within the reach of all.

Cleopatra kept her youth

She reached the height of her fame and beauty when some women imagine they must fade and grow old, keeping her youthful charms and freshness by the same simple means which we recommend today.

Cosmetic cleanliness was a daily rite, and the cleansers employed were palm and olive oils. This kept her complexion fresh and smooth, stimulated to healthful functioning.

Most facial disfigurements result from clogging accumulations which collect on the skin, fill up the pores and cause coarseness, blackheads and blotches.

Wash your face every day and these ills won't afflict you.

Use gentle means

The kind of washing we mean is gentle, soothing, cleansing with the modern blend of palm and olive oils.

Its action is mild and the profuse creamy lather seems lotion-like. It leaves the skin wonderfully smooth and fresh while removing every trace of soil.

Such cleansing is most beneficial and prepares the skin for cold cream if you need it and the touch of rouge and powder most women use.

Neck, arms and shoulders should receive the same beautifying treatment, for they are conspicuous as the face for complexion beauty or the lack of it. Use Palmolive for bathing and let it do for your body what it does for your face. The price allows it.

Yours for 10 cents

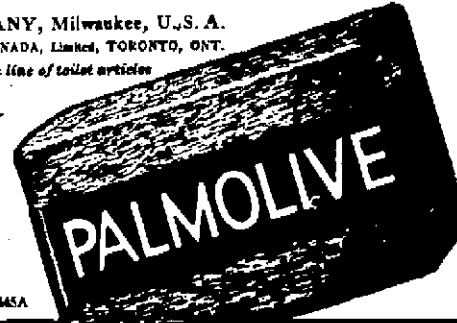

This modest sum is possible through gigantic production which keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night and the importation of the bland mild oils in tremendous volume.

Thus this finest facial soap, which if made in small quantities would cost at least 25 cents, is offered at the price of ordinary soap.

Manly Revival Gets Fine Start

There was a fine attendance at the Manly church last night despite the fact that it was Monday night.

The combination male quartet was at its best and left a fine impression with its appropriate selections. Miss Scarff called it old hymns evening.

The spirit with which the choir and audience took hold of the old gospel hymns showed that they are still refreshed.

"Sin and its forgiveness" was the sermon topic. There is no other theory so easy to theorize or speculate on as that of "sin."

To many the Bible is only a book of daring guesses and lovely dreams. But the man who studies it finds it to be the one book of facts. It settles plainly and forever the fact of "sin" from at least the practical standpoint.

It is not necessary for us to know the beginning of sin, nor the end of it. It is enough to know that sin is a burden to the heart of God and is the only thing that will bar man from the celestial city.

Sin has left its black stain on every part of our character. But Jesus' blood can make us white as snow.

The Bible says if your right eye offends thee pluck it out. But many of us would commit a score of sins rather than pluck out an eye. There has been a shadow on God's face ever since the first man did wrong. "But the blood of Jesus Christ his son cleanses us from all sin."

This Tuesday evening the subject will be "What must I do to be saved?" Several adults held up a hand for prayer last night and prospects look encouraging for a successful meeting.

We extend an invitation to Christian workers and the unsaved to attend these meetings. Come at 7:30 o'clock.

NATION FACES COMPLEX AND DIFFICULT PROBLEMS BUT INDUSTRIAL CLOUDS ARE GIVING WAY TO SUNSHINE, SAYS CONGRESSMAN FESS

"Problems that are complex and difficult of solution are the kind that this nation faces today," said Congressman Simon D. Fess of Yellow Springs, O., near Springfield, when he addressed a large audience in the high school auditorium last night on the subject of "Outstanding Problems Now Before Our Nation."

He appeared here under the auspices of the Women's City Club as part of its educational program relating to history of government. The distinguished speaker spent but a few moments on his introductory remarks, plunging right into his subject. During his address he told of the many difficult problems which confront the nation and what steps are being taken to meet them. He gave many figures and statements in his effort to reflect the true condition of the nation today, and what steps are being taken to place this country and foreign countries back on a par with each other.

The address proved both interesting and educational, the speaker bringing many first-hand facts from Washington that enlightened his hearers on different subjects. In his remarks Congressman Fess gave an inexhaustible supply of figures showing how the cost of government had been reduced since the war administration took charge. He mixed eloquence with forcefulness and his mastery with words was one of the best ever heard in the city, as the speaker spoke straight from the shoulder. He is recognized as one of the leaders in Washington and is a man who knows what is going on. Various issues of the day were discussed frankly, almost brutally, by the able speaker, who was given a very cordial reception here.

Congressman Fess was introduced by Professor Frank Appel who has known him for many years, in their association in educational work. In his talk Prof. Appel complimented the Women's City Club, under whose auspices Mr. Fess spoke here, for the educational program which the woman are carrying out.

Congressman Fess began by saying: "The problems of our nation today are rather complex and difficult of solution. Do not have too much confidence in the ability of the legislature to settle things after the world's greatest convulsion, the World War. We must understand the foreign, as well as the domestic situation. While we are far from the nations wherein the war had its seat, we are neighbors of theirs and their problems are also our problems in many cases. The remedies for the troubles of this old world must be slow to be effective. The great financial drain of the recent war may be judged by what has been done in the past some of which is seen in the following figures:

"Before the war the cost of operating the government was one billion dollars. In 1918 it was 19 billion, in 1920, seven and one-half billion, in 1921, six and one-half billion, and the estimated cost for this year is $4,034,000,000. We can never get back to a pre-war basis.

"The interest on the public debt, which before the war, was thirty million, is now 575 million. The amount for new soldiers is 438 million and the sinking fund, 301 million. Thus, items unknown before the war, are double the cost of pre-war government.

"We are proceeding to cut in every manner possible. The principal ones are shipping board, railroads, war machines and the army and navy. Government expenses have been reduced by millions," he said. "It cannot all be done at once. It takes time, but it is being accomplished. There are something like fifty thousand fewer employees at Washington than there were a brief time ago.

"There were several departments of government created at the outbreak of the war as temporary affairs which by necessity have become permanent. These should not be figured in comparison. Then there has been the addition of the revenue and enforcement departments which have added a veritable army of employees not all in Washington but scattered in all parts and sections of the country. But in the face of all these additions, there has been almost a 50 per cent reduction in the cost of clerical or departmental expense, which is a remarkable record for an administration not yet a year old."

Is Uric Acid Making You Ill?

Have you wondered what is causing you to feel so weak and tired so much? It may be uric acid. Uric acid is a waste product of the body which has filled your blood with uric acid and weakened your kidneys and caused that wearing headache, the backache, dizziness and other bad feelings. Don't wait for serious trouble. Lighten your diet and use Doan's Kidney Pills. This famous recommendation they ask your doctor.

A PORTSMOUTH CASE
Mrs. Harry Welch, 72 Washington St., says: "I was almost helpless with my back. When I bent, it was almost impossible to straighten up. Sharp twinges seized me. I had to be waited upon. I became so dizzy I fell to the floor. My kidneys were inactive, but Doan's Kidney Pills brought me back and Streicher Drug Store relieved me."

High Spots In The Address Made By Congressman Fess

Following are high spots in the address of Congressman S. D. Fess who spoke here last night:

"The high cost of government is the reason for high taxes."

"Do not have too much confidence in the ability of the legislature to settle things after such a World War."

"Better conditions here in America are assured, every symptom points that way."

"The agricultural situation is better and export trade is increasing."

"The European situation is bad and is not growing much better."

"Prospects for a great revival of industry are good."

"Recent action of the Labor Board was a step in the right direction."

"A soldier's bonus bill will pass, the only delay being occasioned by a search of ways to meet the appropriation."

"Clouds blotting industrial horizon are giving way to sunshine."

Arms Conference

Congressman Fess' next devoted some time to the recent Arms Conference saying: "The Arms Conference has proceeded far enough to show a cut of at least 300 millions."

"In part this great gathering of world diplomats has been a success and many in Washington consider it in that light. The speaker declared himself in favor of the disarmament Conference and said that many reports going out from Washington that they were not doing anything and had not accomplished anything, were wrong. He also added that although much credit is being given to President Harding and Secretary Hughes for the calling of the conference some credit is due ex-President Woodrow Wilson.

According to the speaker, the high cost of government is the reason for the high taxes which are the subject of so much discussion at the present time. "Taxes have already been reduced $15 million by the recent tax legislation, and they will be further reduced in the near future," he said.

Leaving the problems of the United States for a few moments, the speaker explained the European problems that bear on conditions here. He said: "The European situation is bad and is not growing much better at the present time, as the countries over there are still spending way beyond their means and are thus continually increasing their deficits. European nations are hoping for further loans from the United States but it will be impossible to grant them as the nations have not yet paid the interest on the principal of the enormous sum of one billion dollars which they now owe our country. Europe must go to work, it's her only hope."

Work More, Save More

The speaker said the only way for the people of Europe to get back on their feet was to work more and save more. He said there was no reason why they could not get their industries started and employ their idle men. The resources of Europe are as good today as they were before the war and the people over there should get busy and develop them.

"The proposed financial conference that Europe wants us to attend must assure that deficits will be avoided, that great armies will be reduced, that useless employment at government expense will be cut off and express a willingness to pay their debts or we cannot accept the invitation to join in the conference."

Congressman Fess, in referring to the soldiers' bonus said: "A bonus bill will pass and the delay is only occasioned by the search of ways to meet the appropriation," and, in his opinion, "these will be found to render unto the faithful boys what is due."

"Better conditions here in America are now assured, every symptom points that way. Unemployment at this season of the year is not as great as feared. Money is much easier to get, discounts much lower, securities market much better, and investment securities more brisk."

"The agricultural situation is better. The export trade is increasing. Last year we sold seven hundred millions more to foreign countries than in 1921, the year before the conflict."

"The Congressional Agricultural Inquiry report shows much improvement in the President's Agricultural Conference in session today in Washington is hopeful. Congress is busy pushing the program of betterment."

"The House has already sent to the Senate the Permanent Tariff Measure, the Loan Funding Act and the Vail Securities Act. These bills still await final action of the Senate, which will not be unduly delayed."

Prospects Are Good

"The prospects for a great revival of industry are good, as shown by a willingness of labor and capital to agree to reduce the high cost of production. This lowering of cost is denominated most vigorously in transportation where freight rates are too high to secure any degree of agricultural relief."

"The recent decision of the Labor Board was a step in the right direction. With capital free to invest in her seeking lesser employment, there is no surplus steadily lessening, there is no point of a steady revival. It will be slow but just as sure."

"The one black spot in the picture is the condition of Europe. While we are willing to help, it is not our problem. It belongs to the old world. They must get away from present methods, reduce war equipment, stop national rivalries, eliminate jealousies and get down to work, employing their ability to produce."

The speaker said congress should exempt the non-taxable securities as the taxes were so high that capitalists were investing their money in non-taxable bonds and securities instead of in a business that would give employment to the labor of the country. Mr. Fess pulled a beautiful word picture when he spoke of the funeral of the unknown soldier who was buried in Arlington cemetery on Nov. 11th. He said it was worth a life time to have been permitted to witness the ceremonies in connection with the burial of the young man who gave his life for his country.

After the address, Congressman Fess held a reception for the members of the Women's City Club who were present. Mrs. Isabelle Thomas is the chairman of the Educational program which is being put on by the club, and she was in charge of many of the details of the meeting last night.

Reception For Visitors

A reception for Congressman Fess was held in the lobby of the Washington Hotel last night at seven o'clock at which he was introduced to a hundred or more of the city's leading and representative citizens. Mr. Fess has been in the city a number of times before and met quite a number of acquaintances among the men at the reception last night. The affair was informal and after introductions all around broke up into groups and enjoyed the hour talking together in the lobby. Members of the Women's City Club were present to meet the congressman and he held a reception for the club after the address in the high school later.

Fred B. Winter, president of the Scioto County Republican Club, and Frank W. Moulton presented the men and women of the city to Mr. Fess. He was entertained at dinner in the hotel dining room with the following invited guests: Frank Appel, John D. Littlejohn and Fred B. Winter.

Congressman Simon D. Fess was extended Portsmouth's cordial handshake of welcome when he stepped from the eastbound C. & O. at South Portsmouth yesterday afternoon, being met at the train by Fred B. Winter, president of the Scioto County Republican Club, and Attorney Frank W. Moulton.

When the city's guest arrived at the Washington Hotel, he was met by Rev. Hugh L. Evans, who knew Mr. Fess several years ago, and also by John D. Littlejohn, editor of the Morning Sun. Russell McCurdy was chairman of the committee of welcome but his duties at the American Legion rooms in charge of the bonus applications prevented his being at the station to meet the congressman.

Mr. Fess was taken about the city to meet many of the prominent business and professional men, during the afternoon.

Congressman Fess seemed at home in Portsmouth. It is indeed remarkable how many men he knows here and can call by the first name. It gives these gentlemen much pleasure to hear that Mr. Fess is mentioned for the honorable position of United States senator. He was silent as to his intentions in this regard, but those who have an inclination to politics and are keeping in touch with political events feel that this high honor could not be bestowed on a better or safer man in the state.

Mr. Fess came to Portsmouth from Hamilton where he addressed a meeting Sunday night. He spoke at the Cincinnati Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. He left last night at midnight for Washington.

Farmer Slashed By Woman; Says Jealousy Was Motive

Charles Farmer of Ironton is recovering from a stab wound in his left side, which he says was inflicted by a woman who says her name is Mabel Mitchell. Jealousy, Farmer says, caused him to be attacked. He is well known here and has numerous relatives in New Boston. Relative to the affair the Ironton Register said:

RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS BACKACHE

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can't hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub. You will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.—Advertisement.

Mabel Mitchell, jealous, Farmer says, caused him to be attacked. He is well known here and has numerous relatives in New Boston. Relative to the affair the Ironton Register said:

"The wounded man was rushed to the hospital and his injuries dressed. They will not prove serious. The Mitchell woman escaped. The attack occurred near the Marlowe theatre and was witnessed by quite a few folks. Mr. Farmer had been attending the motion picture house and was accompanied by Miss Ethel Townsend, formerly of this city, but lately of Columbus, O., when he was attacked by Miss Mitchell. The knife cut Farmer's clothing and inflicted a painful, though not dangerous cut on the left side. He was placed in a waiting automobile and rushed to the Marlowe hospital and was later able to go to his home."

Yeast Vitamine Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron, both food and vitamins are absolutely useless, for your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood just as fire unites with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes thru your body without doing you any good.

GRAND JURY INVESTIGATING AUTO THEFTS

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 24.—The Lawrence county grand jury, which some time ago completed its deliberations, after a brief session, will be recalled into session Wednesday to investigate the automobile theft cases, which have taken such a sensational turn. Robert Finley, arrested on a charge of stealing a large number of cars, made a complete confession Saturday night to Deputy Sheriff Matt Wilson. Constable Tom Brinkine and Prosecuting Attorney Homer M. Edwards.

The preliminary hearing of the defendants was set down for 1 p. m. Wednesday, and the grand jury will take up the cases the same day, insuring a speedy disposition of them. The cases are being prosecuted by insurance companies and all of the men are charged with defrauding or attempting to defraud the insurance company. Finley claims that he was paid at least $50 for stealing the cars.

Philo S. Clark Co. Makes Record

H. A. McKinzie of Columbus formerly Internal Revenue Collector for the Portsmouth district, is in the city today as Special Field Agent for the Great American Auto Insurance company of Mansfield, Ohio, and he was busy telling his many friends and acquaintances here of the merits of Great American Insurance.

"Having practically one out of every ten automobiles in the state insured by the record established by the Great American. It is one among the few companies which write a full coverage policy protecting the auto owner against every kind of loss and damage and the great number of automobiles now insured in the Great American is evidence of the satisfactory protection and service rendered," said Mr. McKinzie. "Out of over 500 Great American agencies in Ohio, The Philo S. Clark Co. of Portsmouth was tenth last month in the report showing amount of auto insurance taken out in The Great American, which would indicate the appreciation shown by the River City auto owners for the general advantages offered by the Great American." (Advertisement.)

deaths would result before it could be controlled.

Two Kinds of Smallpox

It has been known for some time that there are two forms of smallpox, a mild and a severe. The mild form has been prevailing in Ohio for some time, and although an occasional severe case may occur, the mortality is always very low. This is known as the American form. The severe form is known as the Asiatic or European. It occurred in Columbus and Cleveland in 1902 and 1903. Since that time it has been virtually unknown in Ohio. The presence of the virulent "Asiatic" smallpox in Kansas City is a real menace to Ohio, for railroads and automobiles link our big industrial centers so closely together that Kansas City is as close to us as our nearest city.

The doctors discussed the differences between the types of smallpox. They said that the form now prevailing in Ohio is very mild, does not attack all who are exposed, has a two weeks incubation period, and when the eruption appears the patient is practically well. On the other hand, virulent or European smallpox such as is present in Kansas City attacks every one who is exposed, has an incubation period of eight or nine days, and the patient grows gradually worse, not improving when the eruption appears. Confident and hemorrhagic forms are common, and the death rate is from 10 to 30 percent as contrasted with a mortality of less than one percent characterizing the present form.

Successful vaccination within five years will protect the individual against both forms of the disease.

The health commissioners urged boards of education, outside city of Portsmouth in which place the regulation has already been adopted, to adopt regulations requiring the vaccination of school children. The law gives this power to such boards. They also urged all individuals to avail themselves of the protection afforded by recent successful vaccination.

Smallpox in Ohio
At the present time mild smallpox is present in Ohio in the following counties: Champaign, Clark, Columbus, Erie, Greene Hamilton, Highland, Huron, Lucas, Miami, Montgomery, Muskingum, Ottawa, Sandusky, Scioto, Seneca, Stark and Wayne. A total of 95 cases has been reported from these counties in January, and reports are still incomplete. Montgomery, Ottawa, Sandusky, Scioto and Stark counties have the worst situations.

Of the cities, Massillon is the hardest hit. If the present mild form of smallpox shows a tendency to spread what would happen if the more virulent form were imported? This very thing may happen any minute.

Another Arrest In Auto Case

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 24.—Charged with defrauding an insurance company, Clay Stephenson, of Vine street, this city, was arrested this morning at about ten o'clock at his home, by Deputy Sheriff Matt Wilson and Detective Harry Kendall. Stephenson is one of the men named in the confession of Robert Finley, made Saturday night.

It was said today that Indianapolis authorities had captured Harvey Higgins, wanted here in connection with the auto stealing, and the facts had been uncovered that might lead to the arrest of a number of other prominent young men about the city. Higgins was formerly identified with the Auto Laundry gang of automobile thieves and was paroled by the court. During the period of his parole he was employed at a garage here, but left shortly after the time had expired. He is a mechanic of wonderful ability.

Cars stolen. In many cases, it was said, were painted different colors, and engines were changed from one car to another of the same make, thus confusing the numbering. Developments of a sensational nature involving from five to seven other widely known men are said to be under way and they will likely be presented to the grand jury. Hints that another ring of auto thieves exists in the community have been given out and the investigation will probably delve into that. Information of much value has been obtained from the man at Indianapolis, said to be Higgins, and it was said that the recovery of a number of cars Higgins was seen in this vicinity a week or so prior to Finley's arrest, and some say just a few days prior to that even that proved so important.

Grooming Smith For Blair

In commenting on Kid Smith's victory over a third-rater in Huntington last night Duke Ridgely of the Herald Dispatch says:
Again we wish to take space to remark on Smith's apparent natural ability as a fighter. They do not tread the rosin any cooler in action than this boy, he can hit like a pile-driver and they do not need to travel more than a few inches to do the work, and his defense fighting is equally good. His endurance appears excellent, but this cannot be taken for granted. If he has the old stamina and sufficient wind to go over a longer route and absorb a little punishment he has all the desirable qualities a fighter could wish for. Whether or not he possesses the latter qualifications, however, remains to be seen, because so far no one

And Her Dream Came True

Miss Elinor Jones, teacher in the domestic science department at the Wheelersburg high school, is not a believer in dreams, but recently she had an experience that came near making her change her mind.

After the school building was robbed of a sewing machine and other things, and just the day before Principal A. B. Prior asked her to go to the Fred Burhoe home, back of Sciotoville to identify stolen school property, she told of a dream she had concerning the stolen property.

Miss Jones had a dream that the stolen machine was found in a small room in which there was a pan of about six purples and a basket of potatoes with sprouts on them. When Prof. Prior went to the Burhoe home, the machine was found in a small room, and in another room of the house was a big pan containing about six purples. The only thing missing was the sprouting potatoes to make the dream come true.

WALTER H. NORRIS

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Through the solicitation of many of his friends, Walter H. Norris, prominent grocer and citizen, has decided to enter the race for the nomination of County Commissioner of Scioto county, subject to the decision of the electors at the coming primaries to be held in August of this year.

While a life-long Republican and always working for the interests of his party, Mr. Norris has never asked any favor at the hands of the G. O. P. He has never been too busy, but he would gladly take time to enter into a conference where the good of his party was to be discussed.

Mr. Norris is a native of Portsmouth, being born and reared in this city, and has always had the reputation of being a progressive citizen, one who has taken a just pride in civic improvement. For many years he was foreman of the bottoming department of the Selby Shoe Co. Leaving the factory twenty years ago, he entered into the grocery business, where he has made a signal success. He stands high with all people, is a man of unwavering integrity—a man who knows his own mind and whose judgment is often sought by his friends.

He is especially popular among the shoeworkers of the city, who will rally to his support and assist in the securing of the nomination of Commissioner. He is aggressive and fearless and will make a campaign that will carry him into every part of the county. His acquaintance is county wide, many farmers knowing him and respecting him for his uniform courtesy.

Mr. Norris is an ideal candidate for county commissioner, and those who support him will find him always on the square, anxious to see that for every dollar of the tax-payers money expended, a dollar's worth of labor or material must necessarily match up.

Mr. Norris' friends insist that the city should be represented on the board of county commissioners. This condition has not obtained for several years, but there is no question Portsmouth should have representation on that important branch of local government.

WATCHFUL WAITING TO HEARTY CO-OPERATION

CHILLICOTHE, Jan. 24.—Col. Robert I. Rees, successor to Major Deam as assistant to Colonel Forbes of the Veterans Bureau, arrived at Camp Sherman this morning to inspect the school with the purpose in mind of having any needed material sent on as quickly as possible.

Colonel Rees came here direct from Indianapolis, Ind., where he, with Colonels Forbes and Frazier, of the bureau attended the meeting of the national executive committee of the American Legion. Colonel Forbes said that the committee stated that the policy of the Legion would be changed from that of "watchful waiting" to one of hearty co-operation.

CRACK WINCHESTER FIVE AND SELECTS WILL CLASH TONIGHT IN THE HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM

Game To Start At Eight Bells

At eight o'clock tonight the Selects will clash with the Winchester Specials from down in Adams county. This five is playing here in the place of the Circleville Athletic Club quintet, several players of the Pick-away county five being ill this week.

The Winchester quintet will be worthy opponents of the Selects, the only team that has triumphed over the Winchester five in two seasons. Incestman and his Selects will endeavor to put another crimp in that string of victories tonight and at the same time add another scalp to their victory belt.

The game will start promptly at eight o'clock, the doors to open at seven o'clock. The prices tonight are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under 12 years of age.

The Selects will use their regular lineup tonight with Captain Baesman back in the game at center. Edwards and Doll will fill in the forward positions while Barber, Kendall, Kent, and Portner will be on hand to play guard.

Clash Tonight

Tonight, in the Wheelersburg high school gym, the Lumbard school girls of Ironton will clash with the high school girls' five of Wheelersburg. A close game is anticipated as the teams are evenly matched.

Selects vs. Selects

Selects will meet Selects tomorrow night in the Wheelersburg high school gym, when the Ironton Selects clash with the Wheelersburg Selects. The boys on each team firmly believe they will be able to annex a victory, the Wheelersburg lads having the odds as the game is played on their home floor.

Chief Scout Coming

James E. West, head of the Boy Scouts of America, will address the Boy Scouts of the city Friday evening at eight o'clock in the high school hall. Upon his arrival in the city, Mr. West will be met at the station by the Boy Scouts and escorted to the hall.

Ruth Is Batting 1000 In Cincy

Babe Ruth is batting 1.000 in the Cincinnati league in Cincinnati this week. He is at the head of the list and his act is a good one. Ruth is a wise old owl. He knows he cannot act, but he has two men with him and they are real singers and dancers. They put Ruth over.

HERE IS BIG TEN STANDING

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Minnesota maintained its lead in the big ten conference basketball race by its victory over Indiana last night while Purdue took the runner-up position and kept its lost column clear.

Purdue	3	0	1.000
Illinois	2	0	1.000

Purdue defeated Northwestern for the second time this season, getting the long end of a 32 to 20 score.

Looks Like Blockie Is Through

DAYTON, OHIO, January 24.—Danny Marsh, Cleveland, will not box Blockie Richards here on January 30. That announcement was made by officials of Miami Athletic Club, which was to stage the bout. The announcement followed the showing of Blockie at Springfield, where he was outboxed by Patsy Dugan, of Toledo, in a 12-round go. Blockie is said to be in good condition, but owing to an absence from the ring for over three months it is figured he would be an easy mark for the clever Clevelander at this time.

Will Shade Dethrone Britton?

Jack Britton destined to be dethroned?

The welterweight champion is soon scheduled to risk his title with Dave Shade of California. The bout will be 15 rounds to a decision.

Many fight fans in the ears are not taking the bout seriously. They figure Britton will have no great trouble disposing of the contender.

The coming bout will be the second meeting between the two. On June 3, at Portland, Ore., Shade earned a draw in a 10-round bout with Britton.

In the fourth round of that encounter, Shade came within one second of being crowned the welterweight champion. Britton was down for the count of nine.

The champion, however, rose before the referee had totaled off the fatal 10. He was badly hurt, but his experience and ring generalship saved him. He went into a clinch, held on until his head cleared and stalled until the bell rang.

Britton came up fresh for the fifth round. However, the punch that floored him caused him to respect Shade's wallop. He fought carefully during the remainder of the fight and piled up enough margin to overcome the knock-down and earn a draw.

Shade unquestionably has a great chance to win the title. He is only 39 years old, Britton is 36. If youth means anything in this bout, the advantage is certainly all with Shade.

Jack Britton Is Oldest Of Fistic Title Holders

Jack Britton, who holds the welterweight title, was born at Clinton, N. Y., October 14, 1885. His given name is William J. Breslin. His nationality is Irish-American.

Britton has been fighting 18 years. He started his pugilistic career in 1904 with a knockout.

Britton came into national prominence as a fighter in 1912, when he met some of the best men in the country in his class.

Britton has had the unique experience of losing his title to Ted Lewis on a decision and winning it back two years later from the same fighter via the knockout route.

Fistic experts regard Britton as the marvel of the ring. His winning back of the title after losing it to Lewis, came after he had been pronounced through because of illness which had apparently undermined his health.

Britton is the oldest champion. He will be 37 his next birthday. At that age most fighters are through. Britton is champion and going as well as ever.

Britton has a dangerous punch, but has never been known as a knocker-out. He is very clever and is content to win on points, rather than sacrifice his hands in always attempting a knockout.

If Britton is able to hold off Dave Shade and retain his title, a bout with Benny Leonard is almost a certainty within the next six months.

Is Feeling Pulse of Stanford

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Jan. 24.—Glenn Warner, veteran Pittsburgh football coach, who is acting as a doctor called to diagnose of Stanford's gridiron ailments, is spending this week examining the patient.

One of the first things Warner asked for on arriving here last week was a picture of the 1921 Cardinal football squad and on receiving it he remarked about the number of "bucky" men in the photograph.

Warner said his first impression was that football material in the west is as good if not better than in

Minnesota Wins

At Bloomington, Ind., last night Minnesota kept up its winning streak by beating Indiana, 19 to 16. It was one of the best basketball games ever played in the Indiana city.

The Printers' headpin tournament opened with plenty of action yesterday afternoon at "The Club." The bowlers kept things humming from the time the first ball was rolled until the affairs closed last night. Two hundred games were rolled on the first day of the tournament and it is expected that there will be more men out to try for the many prizes that have been hung up today, and later in the week.

There were some clue scores rolled yesterday. Joe Bruno almost made a perfect game, and his score of 377 makes him feel pretty sure of carrying home one of the three big prizes at the end of the week.

Five men managed to get tied for second place each with a mark of 95, and they will arrange a way of rolling off the tie. These five are, Dr. Knechtly, Ed Huel, Elmer Nardi, Sam Bismarck and Stanley Fultz.

The tournament is open to every bowler in the city, and all are invited to try for one of the many prizes. The cost of the game is two-bits, and it entitles the bowler to ten balls, counting all the pins made when the second pin is hit. 100 is perfect in the head pin game.

The affairs at The Club will be open every afternoon and evening this week for bowlers who wish to enter the tournament.

The prizes offered for the remainder of the week are as follows:

Kearney Is The Winner
A great boxing show was held in Huntington last night and here are the winners:

Mike Kearney scored a technical knockout over Dave Powers in the sixth round.

Jimmie Blankenship knocked out Jack O'Boyle in 2 rounds.

"Kid" Smith knocked out "K. O." Artip in 4 rounds.

Kid Smith is the lad who is angling for a match with Nig Blair.

AT THE Columbia Commencing TOMORROW

"The Sheik" is an amazing photoplay which shows you the way an Arab chief makes love to a beautiful English girl he has captured. A thousand wild mounted Bedouins with long rifles and flowing robes obey his slightest wish—ride through the picture like the wind—how shall she escape? She sees the slave-bridal dance beneath the great canopy for his sultan's pleasure. She is to become one of them unless she rules otherwise. That is the plot of it! The shiver of it!

It's a Paramount Picture

A Query A Day

What happens when the umpire is hit by a batted ball on which no play has been made?

If the umpire is hit by a batted ball on which no play has been made, the batsman is entitled to first base, but no runners can advance unless forced to make room for the batsman.

WHY HARKEN TO THE PUGILISTIC SCRAP HEAP?

The Ironton Register says: "News comes to Ironton from Jack Sheppard, Ironton's battling welterweight boxer, who is now working in Cincinnati, O., that he will take on Nig Blair of Portsmouth, in a battle for honors, defending Ironton in the affair. This was received in a telegram yesterday. Jack has not been doing a great deal of fighting of late, having almost retired from the game, but he is willing to stage a comeback in order that Ironton may have a representative in the ring at Portsmouth.

He stands ready to enter into an agreement to fight Blair at Portsmouth within a reasonable time and it is believed that arrangements can be made for the fight, which would draw a tremendous crowd from this city, Ashland and Huntington.

The money end of the battle will hardly be a consideration, as Sheppard is willing to fight for only $200, which, considering the crowd that should be drawn by such a match, would be nothing more than "pity money out of the receipts."

Sheppard has shown his little wares here on several occasions and the fans were not impressed with his work. He had a hard time outpunching Joe Serra, and thus here would not rush to the box office to get pastboards to see him fight. And he has been out of the game so long that he would come back just to pick up some soft money. Blair is anxious to meet youngsters of his caliber and not old fuses like Sheppard, who can stall through any fight. Action is what is keeping up the game here and fighters of Sheppard's class cannot supply it.

And the truth is that Sheppard just now knows too much about the arena game to send him against a boy who is earning his spurs. Thanks, call again, Mr. Sheppard.

Owery Wants To Meet Blair
Now one Ralph Owery of Ironton says he is willing to swap punches with Nig Blair, at least he says, since he has returned to Ironton. He was here and saw Blair pit Eddie Moore away and did not go to the trouble to challenge Nig. In fact, he sang the praises of Blair and never once intimated that he would like to take on the local boxer. Owery will have to show something against other boys of his weight and class before facing Blair. Talk is cheap. Boxing is hard on the mind.

Troop 18
Troop 18 of New Boston won and lost when they met Troop 5 of the Evangelical Church last night at the latter's hall.

The Battlem game was the prettiest played yet this season. Both sides played a good, clean game and the score zig-zagged back and forth between the two, now one being in the lead and then the other. Troop 5 was leading by one point when in the last minute of play, Duncan threw a basket winning for his team 18 to 17.

Ruhlman and Captain Torges were the stars for Troop 5, both doing good shooting. Duncan starred for Troop 18, shooting five field goals, while Captain York starred at foul shooting, making 4.

EDDIE'S FRIENDS The Guy Who Had His Habits Changed

WHY HARKEN TO THE PUGILISTIC SCRAP HEAP?

The Ironton Register says: "News comes to Ironton from Jack Sheppard, Ironton's battling welterweight boxer, who is now working in Cincinnati, O., that he will take on Nig Blair of Portsmouth, in a battle for honors, defending Ironton in the affair. This was received in a telegram yesterday. Jack has not been doing a great deal of fighting of late, having almost retired from the game, but he is willing to stage a comeback in order that Ironton may have a representative in the ring at Portsmouth.

He stands ready to enter into an agreement to fight Blair at Portsmouth within a reasonable time and it is believed that arrangements can be made for the fight, which would draw a tremendous crowd from this city, Ashland and Huntington.

The money end of the battle will hardly be a consideration, as Sheppard is willing to fight for only $200, which, considering the crowd that should be drawn by such a match, would be nothing more than "pity money out of the receipts."

Sheppard has shown his little wares here on several occasions and the fans were not impressed with his work. He had a hard time outpunching Joe Serra, and thus here would not rush to the box office to get pastboards to see him fight. And he has been out of the game so long that he would come back just to pick up some soft money. Blair is anxious to meet youngsters of his caliber and not old fuses like Sheppard, who can stall through any fight. Action is what is keeping up the game here and fighters of Sheppard's class cannot supply it.

And the truth is that Sheppard just now knows too much about the arena game to send him against a boy who is earning his spurs. Thanks, call again, Mr. Sheppard.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, January 24.—Runners in New York are not composed entirely of those drawn from the underworld. New York has its fashionable bootleggers, set—men who left tapertied elegance and mahogany desks to pit their wits against highly trained government sleuths.

There is an amazing nonchalance about their new vocations. They speak of it brazenly and with no sense of shame. The other day a man who has been a guest in my home called me on the telephone. He did not spar for words nor attempt to excuse himself.

"I have become a bootlegger," he said. "I am sending you a price list. Should you know of any one wanting first class goods, let me know." And the next day in the mail came a printed list of his wares with the price quotations. The name and address, of course, being deleted.

One of the most successful insurance agents in Manhattan recently closed his office. The gossip of Broadway has it that he has become a professional bootlegger, catering to the extremely rich.

The leader of one of the most famous orchestras in town is known as the "fading bootlegger." He drives about in a car especially made for him. It is a salmon pink with stripes of vermillion. He has bought a home once occupied by one of our gaudy cigarette millionaires on Riverside Drive.

Another bootlegger who calls the young bloods of the Four Hundred by their first names is an Austrian. Five years ago he had a chain of boot-black parlors on the East Side. He was the patron.

Now he lives in the bachelor apartments over one of the smartest restaurants on Fifth Avenue. He has morning, afternoon and evening clothes. The odd psychology of it is that his clients seem to feel flattered when he waves to them in public at the night haunts. He has become a commanding personality—a gentleman of extreme distinction.

"Shuffle Along" is nearing its second year at an obscure theatre in the Sixties. It is a musical melange with an entire colored cast. The music was written by Sissle and Lyle, two negroes who were "on call" for private parties where they sang shivering shimmy songs. They have made a snug fortune. Sissle is a big burly fellow with a penetrating tenor voice. Lyle is a mulatto, bald-headed and wears studious horn-rimmed glasses. He plays the piano entirely by ear. "Shuffle Along" gives two midnight performances weekly and it has become a rendezvous for smart after the theatre crowds. When the local run ends the entire company is to be taken to London where a theatre has been engaged for them.

For years she has played in the bedroom dramas, but she wanted to do "better things". The other day she went into a producer's office and told him of her ambitions. "You know," she said, "I am anxious to appear in Shakespeare's plays. For the last 10 years I've read everything he's written as soon as it was published." The producer was thoughtful—O very. "I know how you feel," he said. "Your plays have not been brought up to date. The next bedroom farce you play in I'm going to see to it that you have a mattress with bobbed hair." And

A Warm Tribute
The business man-mayor of a small city had been elected, against his own desires, for his fourth term. Though he had wanted the chance to give all his attention to business, he greeted the announcement committee with as much cordiality as he could muster.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Mayor," said the chairman, "but they've put you to the trouble of officiating for another term. A far worse man would have been good enough for us, but that's just the trouble. We couldn't find him—and it's my opinion he ain't to be found."

The Catholic Church

has been the pioneer of Church unity. She looks with dismay and regret at the multiplicity of Christian denominations, and invites them all into that unity for which Christ came into this world, suffered and died. 1 Cor. 1, 10: "Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of Our Lord Jesus Christ that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you, but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgment." GOD SPEED THE DAY!

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY WAS FIRST GRANTED IN AMERICA BY A CATHOLIC, LORD BALTIMORE, IN 1649.

Try It On An Easy Mark
Mr. Kaiser got it in Chicago and sprung it on the editor.
"What does a base ball do when it stops rolling?"
"Give it up."
"It looks round."

Plum (b) Correct
"The proof of the pudding is in the eating," said the man who believes in the old maxims.
"Yes," agreed the one who makes up new ones as he goes along, "and the higher the proof, the better the eating."

All Fixed
"Have you made up your mind to stay in this evening?" he asked a bit wistfully.
"Just then he got a good look at his wife's face and added: "But no. I see you have made up your face to go out."

Harking Away Back
"How long have you lived here?"
"Well, sir," replied a citizen of Waverleghill, "I don't know whether you'll believe it or not, but when I came here there wasn't a single gasoline-filling station in the whole blame town!"

Arguments for and against the error proceedings presented in behalf of Ray Chamblin, condemned to die in the electric chair on February 24 for the murder of Louise Doyle and John Newman, last October, were heard by Court of Appeals in session here Tuesday morning.

In his argument in support of the petition for error seeking to set aside the judgment and finding of the trial court, Attorney Theo. K. Funk made a passionate appeal to the court in an effort to save his client from paying the extreme penalty imposed. He pointed out and recited incidents in connection with the tragedy and the trial which he claimed were mitigating circumstances under which mercy should have been extended. The attorney declared that the fatal shots were fired upon the impulse and an act of nature for one suddenly attacked as Chamblin was by the throwing of a brick of other missile at him when he entered the house, asserting that the defendant had no time to reflect or deliberate and that he was not actuated by malice to commit the crime.

The principal error complained of by the defense was that the court, over objection, compelled the accused to take the witness stand in his own behalf and that the finding of the court was excessive. Attorney Funk reviewed Chamblin's life from the time he was turned out as a boy by his stepfather to shift for himself and the lawyer was moved to tears as he made reference to the mother love exhibited by the Chamblin's mother on the day her son was sentenced.

Prosecutor Sheppard, for the state briefly reviewed the case, pointing to Chamblin's confession in which he admitted having killed the Doyle girl in order to seal her lips and of his plea of guilty to murdering this girl with deliberate and premeditated malice as laid in the indictment. The prosecutor refuted Attorney Funk's statement that Chamblin was forced to take the stand in his own behalf, by pointing to the record which he claimed indicated that the defendant took the stand at the instance of his own counsel, being the first witness called in the hearing.

The court in taking the case under advisement announced that an opinion would be rendered in a few days.
